Dear Elizabeth Groginsky,

On behalf of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Administration for Children and Families, Office of Child Care, I am writing to let you know that District of Columbia was not selected to work with the Impact Project at this time. We received more applications with exciting, systemic proposals than we have the resources to support. We appreciate the thought and effort that you put into completing the application and are disappointed that we are unable to include you in the Impact Project.

As an alternative to the Impact Project, we have reviewed your application and are recommending some other options to support the work that you outlined in your application. In looking at your proposal, while we are not able to support the work in full, we know how critical modernizing processes can be to efficient use of public resources and to achieving better integration. We have asked Evelyn Keating to be in touch to discuss how she can assist in mapping some of the processes you identified in your proposal to support re-engineering.

Harriet Dichter serves as the lead for this work at the State Capacity Building Center, so please feel free to reach out to her as needed at harriet.dichter@icfi.com. Our thanks to you and your partners for all that you are doing to advance quality child care and education.

Sincerely,

Rachel Schumacher
