An Individualized Education Program may be accepted when determining if a child has special needs. Additionally, the Lead Agency has partnered with Head Start to support Early Head Start-Child Care Partnerships when eligible infants and toddlers are enrolled in selected child care programs. These partnerships allow for flexibility for the families and offer additional family supportive services focusing holistically on the family, health and safety and school-readiness. Additionally, the Lead Agency has implemented the use of a tiered payment structure, which allows more flexibility for parents to negotiate pick up times, travel time, etc.

Consumer Education Website

How the Lead Agency ensures that its website is consumer-friendly and easily accessible	The Lead Agency ensures that its website is consumer-friendly and easily accessible in a variety of ways. Most significantly, the website, Care About Childcare (CAC), is reviewed frequently by the Lead Agency and its partners to ensure it is easy to navigate for the user. The user includes providers, parents and the general public. Any necessary changes are made easily and quickly through the Lead Agency’s contracted partner that employs a full-time programmer who exclusively works on the CAC website. The CAC website is available for consumers twenty-four hours a day. The website provides information on quality child care in general, as well as specific information regarding what a consumer may want to look for when visiting programs. In order to support consumers, the website includes a child care provider search feature. All licensed providers with no civil money penalties are featured on the CAC website. Specifically, the search feature allows parents to evaluate several features of a specific provider including the following: the availability of child care; type of child care; hours of operation; whether the provider serves children with disabilities; licensing and monitoring history; and locations of child care providers within a geographic radius of the parent’s workplace or home. In addition, consumers may also utilize the search feature to identify providers that care for children with disabilities; care for infants and toddlers; and provide care during non-traditional hours. License exempt programs and Family, Friend and Neighbor providers may also be searched for in the CAC website to obtain general information about the provider including their licensing record. A consumer may also view a provider’s “marketing page.” The marketing page is at the option of a provider. For providers with marketing pages consumers can evaluate additional features of a program, including photos of the program, program philosophy, mission statements and other information the provider elects to display. Additionally, providers that have chosen to participate in the CAC quality indicator program have quality indicators verified during an unannounced licensing inspection for consumers to view. The website features a parent page which includes links to concise written summaries on quality child care, checklists for selecting quality child care, as well as short video clips with easy to understand guidance on steps parents should take when choosing care. There is a link for parents to contact their local CAC agency if help from a staff member is preferred. In addition to information on child care programs throughout the state, the website includes information on alternative options for child care, such as Head Start programs and license-exempt, afterschool programs for school-age children. Although the information contained on the website is in English, the website contact page includes phone numbers for individuals that speak Spanish to contact if a parent needs assistance from a Spanish speaker.
How the website ensures the widest possible access to services for families that speak languages other than English	The Lead Agency ensures that the website is accessible for families that speak languages other than English. Specifically, the website is accessible to Spanish speakers, the predominant language spoken apart from English. The website includes clear instruction for Spanish speakers on its “Contact” page. That page includes a statement in Spanish directing individuals that need assistance to call a phone number where they will be able to receive personal and individualized assistance from someone who speaks Spanish. The assistance provided includes navigation of the website but also any resources an individual may need related to child care. In addition, when interpretation or language services are not available in a specific language, Care About Childcare agencies contact interpreters through other agencies, including a refugee community center and an interpretive services agency for assistance.

How the website ensures the widest possible access to services for persons with disabilities	The Care About Child Care website ensures the widest possible access to services for people with disabilities through compliance with the American’s with Disabilities Act. Specifically, the website was examined by WebAIM.org in 2016 and found to be conformant with Level A and Level AA of the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines, version II. This examination looks at whether or not a website has audio that describes captions appearing in time with speech, assures non-text content has a text alternative, closed caption viewing is available, and other aspects required by the section 508 of the ADA.
